

Margaret Wakeley

VOICEOVER ACTOR

As both a voice actor and professional singer, my voice has been a defining trademark throughout my life. Always seeking to make meaningful connections with others has translated into genuine empathy and caring in my voice work. It is grounded in a desire to build bridges with my listeners and to educate, move, inspire, soothe, entertain, and inform in a clear and welcoming way that invites them to listen.

FREELANCE VOICE OVER ACTOR

(1985 - present)

Based in Los Angeles, then Seattle, now Upstate New York, I've done voice work for clients such as Audible, and University Press Audiobooks, the Smithsonian Museum of American Art, Cornell University, Corning Museum of Glass, Empire Vision, ICAD e-learning

PROFESSIONAL SINGER

(1972 - present)

Initially working as a pop singer-songwriter, I eventually gravitated to jazz and cabaret, weaving stories with my songs and performing throughout the US and Europe in clubs, hotels and resorts. I recorded four albums of original and cover songs and to this day I continue to sing for special concerts and benefits.

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT COORDINATOR

(2005 - 2018)

A Network for Grateful Living

Part of the webteam of gratefulness.org, I provided customer support, graphic design, content management, fundraising, event planning, writing & editing, video editing, workshops, and created e-courses and how-to videos.
